Litigator and counselor Maribeth Annaguey advocates for businesses, entrepreneurs and prominent individuals when their companies are under threat, their reputations are at stake, and their livelihoods are at risk. Maribeth has fought for and protected clients as wide ranging as real estate companies, hip hop artists, shareholders in business divorces and entertainment industry professionals. Whether prosecuting breach of contract claims, resolving high-stakes partnership disputes, defending employment claims or securing retractions from the media, Maribeth uses her 20 years of litigation strength to customize strategies that resolve each client’s unique matter and concerns.

As a founding partner of Annaguey McCann, Maribeth provides clients with a plan of action that extends beyond the familiar litigation manual, often preventing lawsuits from ever being filed.

Her decades of experience at major California firms earned her a reputation as a litigator respected for her impact, civility and creative solutions. Maribeth is committed to upgrading the client-lawyer relationship. She invests time upfront with clients and emphasizes clear and frequent communication throughout her representation.

Many of Maribeth’s clients are entertainers and public figures. She has extensive experience with resolving disputes, allegations and claims, including defamation, commission disputes, and breach of nondisclosure agreements, that often arise for artists and creative entrepreneurs.

Clients gain assurance from Maribeth’s understanding of how the business operates, her ability to preserve critical working relationships, and her discreet handling of sensitive issues. To expedite resolution to conflict, she often turns to her productive professional network across Southern California.

In her legal leadership, Maribeth works to expand inclusiveness and diversity in the profession and community.

Access to education, especially for underrepresented youth, is one of her deeply held commitments. A Southern California native, born and raised in San Bernardino by immigrant parents who emphasized the importance of education, Maribeth is the first in her family to attend law school. One long-term contribution was Maribeth's work as a founder of Extera Public Schools, which establishes and operates charter schools in Boyle Heights and East Los Angeles.

Maribeth is currently focused on amplifying the work of the nonprofit, nonpartisan organization HOPE (Hispanas Organized for Political Equality). She is a long-term supporter of HOPE's leadership, advocacy, and education efforts to achieve political and economic parity for Latinas. After supporting and volunteering for HOPE for years, Maribeth joined its board of directors in 2022.

Maribeth earned her B.A. at UC Berkeley and her J.D. from University of Southern California, where she was editor-in-chief of the Southern California Law Review. In addition to years of recognition from Super Lawyers, Maribeth was named in 2022 among Los Angeles Business Journal's "Leaders of Influence: Minority Attorneys" and Lawdragon's "500 Leading Lawyers in America." She has recently been recognized in the Los Angeles Business Journal's "Thriving in Their 40s" issue in 2023.
